The Nutrition Education for Wellness Program staff and student assistants have developed and compiled the "Leave It Then Eat It" recipes for use in an electric slow cooker. Each recipe has been tested and retested by NEW staff a minimum of four times by four different people and then field tested amongst family, friends, and colleagues. Assorted brands of slow cookers were utilized in recipe development and also varied in capacity from four to five quarts. Each recipe notates a recommended slow cooker size. Recipe analyses were conducted by three NEW Program staff to ensure accuracy of the nutrition label.

Although such scrupulous measures were taken in the development of the "Leave It Then Eat It" recipes, there are still existing variations between each slow cooker in its cooking time and temperature. Recipes may need to be adjusted based on your slow cooker size.

The University of Hawaii Cooperative Extension Service (UH-CES) endeavors to "put knowledge to work." One of UH-CES' cornerstone programs is Nutrition Education for Wellness (NEW).

The NEW Program and its staff would like to convey a very special thanks to those who contributed their valued time and efforts to the "Leave It Then Eat It" recipe development, testing, tasting, and artwork.

NEW is a statewide program that facilitates consumer foods and nutrition education in support of Hawaii's communities, thereby improving their health and well being. The NEW Program staff and student assistants have developed, cooked, and taste tested these recipes, conducted multiple recipe analyses, and collaborated in the compilation of this booklet. To find out more about NEW, its projects and its resources, please visit the program web site at: www.ctahr.hawaii.edu/NEW.

Introduction

(By

For over thirty years, electric slow cooking has addressed our need for convenience, taste, and budget consciousness. "Leave It Then Eat It" is dedicated to those who yearn to relax and enjoy good tasting, home-cooked meals with family and friends. Even though we may lead busy lives, slow cooking allows us to enjoy simmered-in flavors without the need for constant attention to traditional cooking in the pot. Slow cooked dishes also benefits to our budgets by allowing us to use less expensive meats that simmer to tenderness.

Eating delicious meals and foods that are good for our health is important for all of us. The "Leave It Then Eat It" recipes promotes: (1) lower fat eating, and with applied menu suggestions, (2) incorporates vegetables and fruits into each dish. Topics such as safe food handling, budgeting, menu planning, shopping and cooking skills, as well as other food and nutrition information, and resources are included for your reference.

Slow cooking is a type of cooking method that involves recipe adaptations. The recipes contained in this cookbook, which include local favorites, have been tested several times each and conveniently include their nutrition facts. For simple, easy to make, slow and simmered flavors with tasty home-style meals, try these sixteen recipes as a basic starting point. As you become more familiar with the method of slow cooking, feel free to add your own creativity to the pot, and adjust the recipes as you see fit.

Sit down to a delicious slow cooked meal with family and friends at least once a week. Sharing a home-cooked meal is one way of showing that you care. Sharing is caring!

Important Safety Precautions

When using electrical appliances such as your slow cooker, safety precautions should always be followed to reduce the risk of fire, electric shock, burns, food poisoning and other dangers. These safety precautions include the following:

I. READ INSTRUCTIONS

- a. Read all instructions that come with your slow cooker before using it. The slow cooker is for household use only. Use only for its intended use and follow its basic directions. Save instructions for future reference.
- b. Follow recipe instructions. Familiarize yourself with the basics of slow cooking before becoming creative with slow cooker recipes.

II. BE FOOD SAFE

- a. Follow all recommended safe food handling guidelines (information included on pages 37-40).
- b. Cooking Temperatures and Food Safety: Food cooked in a slow cooker needs to reach and maintain an internal temperature of 165 °F.
 - Cook with the lid on for the recommended total time. Taking the lid off causes a loss of heat and temperature of the food to decrease.
 - 2) Do not use the "warm" setting for more than two hours.
 - 3) If your slow cooker has an automatic timer, do not delay the starting time for more than two hours. Well-chilled foods can be held at room temperature for no more than two hours.
- c. Frozen foods: Do not use frozen foods unless they are recommended in the recipe, as they may increase the food safety risk by increasing the time needed to reach 165°F. Be aware that some foods, especially meats that may be in the "danger zone" (between 40-140°F) longer than recommended, can become a food safety hazard.

- d. Thaw frozen roasts before slow cooking. Another alternative is to cook the roast on high for the first hour, then reduce to low and cook as usual. Ingredients need to quickly rise to a safe temperature so that there is less chance of food contamination.
- e. If the ingredients are prepared the night before cooking, place them in a covered container in the refrigerator. Do not refrigerate the food directly in the slow cooker. A cold slow cooker with cold food takes too long to heat and begin cooking. The food may be in the "danger zone" (between 40-140°F) longer than is recommended and can become a food safety risk.
- f. Before you use your slow cooker, check if it heats properly. Fill it two-thirds full with water, cover and cook on high setting for four hours. Check the temperature with an instant-read thermometer. It should read 180°F.

III. BE CAUTIOUS

- a. Close supervision is a must when a slow cooker is used by, with or near children.
- b. Place your slow cooker on a flat, non-flammable surface. Ensure that the area around your slow cooker is clear and free from clutter to help prevent accidents from occurring. Do not put the slow cooker in a place that is unstable, humid, near a fire or any heat source. A heat resistant pad or trivet is recommended for countertops not designed to withstand the prolonged heat generated by a slow cooker.
- c. Always turn the switch to OFF before unplugging. Keep your slow cooker unplugged when: the slow cooker is not in use, before cleaning, the inner pot is removed, or when the inner pot is empty. When the food is cooked and ready to serve, turn off the slow cooker and unplug it from the electrical outlet.
- d. Do not touch the hot surfaces of your slow cooker; use its handles and knobs. When removing the cover or when handling the hot inner pot, use potholders. Keep in mind that the outer appliance may also be hot during use.

- e. To protect against electric shock, do not immerse the outer cooking appliance in water or any liquid. Do not put any type of food or liquid into the outer cooking appliance of the slow cooker without the inner pot in it.
- f. Do not use the slow cooker if: the power cord is damaged, after the appliance malfunctions, or it has been damaged in any way. To avoid hazards: the slow cooker must be replaced or repaired by the manufacturer, its service agent, or a similarly qualified person. Do not alter, tamper, or repair the slow cooker yourself.
- g. Use only the attachments and accessories recommended by the manufacturer.
- h. The purpose of the short power cord reduces the risk of becoming tangled as well as to avoid tripping over a longer cord. Do not let the cord hang over the edge of the table or counter, or be near any heated surfaces. Longer detachable power cords or extension cords are available, but use them with care. The marked electrical rating of the cord or extension cord should be at least as great as the electrical rating of the slow cooker cord. The extension cord should be arranged so that it cannot be pulled, tangled, or tripped over.
- i. Avoid sudden temperature changes: adding cold foods into a heated inner pot, putting the pot on a cold surface, or adding cold water to a heated pot. The inner stoneware cooking pot cannot withstand the shock of sudden temperature changes and may crack if proper precautions are not taken.
- j. After cooking is complete, and the slow cooker is turned off, place a heat resistant pad on the counter or table before placing the inner pot on top.
- k. Are you concerned about leaving your slow cooker on while you are away from home? Cook the dish overnight. Then, in the morning, refrigerate the food in a refrigerator-safe container. At suppertime, reheat the food by microwave or stovetop. For proper refrigerating techniques, refer to the safe food handling information on pages 37-40.

IV. CLEAN PROPERLY

- a. Clean all parts of your slow cooker before and after use to avoid hazards. Make sure that the outer cooking appliance and the inner pot are clean, both on the inside and outside, as spills and bits of food may burn during long cooking times.
- b. Avoid sudden temperature changes such as pouring cold water into the hot pot to soak and wash. The stoneware inner cooking pot cannot withstand the shock of sudden temperature changes and may crack.
- c. Do not use abrasive cleaners or cleaning pads.

Hints and Tips

1. Trim all outer-layer or visible fats: Too much fat can cause over-cooking.

2. Ground Meats

W

- a. Most ground meats (except the very lean) should be browned and thoroughly drained of fat before cooking in your slow cooker. This helps the meat maintain a better texture and prevents overcooking.
- b. To maintain firmness, meat loaves should be placed on top of sliced vegetables or on the accessory meat rack.
- 3. For even cooking of meat, be sure there is some space between the pieces to allow the heat to circulate.
- 4. Some sturdier vegetables such as carrots and potatoes, may cook slower than meats so they should be placed at the bottom or along the sides of the slow cooker. Tender vegetables such as leafy greens, green onions, etc., could be added for the last 30-60 minutes of the total cooking time. Recipes may suggest layering the vegetables in a specific order with the tougher ingredients on the bottom.
- 5. Herbs and spices: Be aware that whole dried herbs and spices may give out more flavor than their ground forms.
- 6. Rice and pasta have variable results in slow cookers: It is often recommended that rice and pasta be cooked separately from your slow cooker. Another option is to add the rice or pasta to the slow cooker towards the end of the total cooking time.
 - Use whole grain brown rice as an alternative to instant or white rice. It does not become as mushy as instant or white rice.
- 7. Coating meats with flour assists in thickening recipes with broth as it cooks. You can also thicken your broth by removing the lid and cooking on high for the last 15-20 minutes to evaporate some of the liquid.

- 8. For best results, the slow cooker should be one-half to two-thirds full when cooking. The duration of cooking indicated on each recipe is specific to the size of the slow cooker listed. Therefore, recipe cooking times may need to be adjusted depending on the size of your slow cooker.
- 9. Cooking times: Cooking for 1 hour on high is approximately the same as 2-2½ hours on low.
- 10. Be aware that slow cookers can tip over or the covers may come off during transportation. Place it in a newspaper or towel-lined container slightly larger than your slow cooker so it will fit snugly. This will also aid in insulation. Rubber bands can be used to fasten the lid to the handles by wrapping them around the knob on the lid and stretching them over the handles on the side of the slow cooker. Some models of slow cookers may have lid fasteners built in to avoid spills.
- 11. Certain ingredients should be added toward the end of the cooking time. These include: milk products, seafood, tender vegetables, cooked rice and pasta.
- 12. For even cooking, cut meats and veggies into equal sizes.
- 13. When a slow cooker roast recipe gives a range of cooking times such as 8-10 hours, roasts will be tender after 8 hours, and will shred after 10 hours.
- 14. To make gravy after a slow-cooked roast is done, remove the roast, and leave the juices in the slow cooker. Make a smooth paste of ¼ cup water at room temperature, and ¼ cup flour. Mix and pour slowly into the slow cooker while stirring and set on high for about 15 minutes.
- 15. Do not peek into your slow cooker by opening the lid. The temperature will be significantly reduced and the cooking time may increase by 15-20 minutes each time the lid is opened.

- 16. When food comes up to cooking temperature in the slow cooker, the low setting is approximately 200° F and the high setting is approximately 300° F.
- 17. Slow cookers are not meant to be used for reheating cooked foods: Slow cookers do not warm up fast enough. Reheat foods on the stovetop or microwave.
- 18. Be aware that high humidity and/or high altitude can cause food to take longer to finish cooking.

A Food Guide

A Food Guide

Build A Healthy Plate

Drink water often, with and between your meals.

Choose fat-free or low-fat (1%) milk.

Vegetables and fruits fill half the plate.

Pile them as high as you want. If you are still hungry, go for more fruit and veggies.

Choose a variety of colors and forms: fresh, frozen, canned or dried, and 100% juice.

100% Juice.

NIXED FRUIT

A starch/grain fills a fourth of the plate not more than 1/2 inch high.

Make half your grains whole grains.

A meat/protein fills a fourth of the plate, not more than 1/2 inch high.

Keep meat and poultry portions lean and small.

Eat beans, a natural source of fiber and protein.

30

WHOLE FOODS:

• Choose foods in their natural, unprocessed form when possible.

For example, fresh apples are in the "whole" form nature gave us. Applesauce and apple juice are more processed. Apple flavored products may not contain real apples.

Water:

Drink more water, the liquid your body needs.

MODERATION:

- Reduce your risk of chronic diseases by limiting the amounts of foods you eat that are high in fats, sugars, and salt, such as fatty meats, desserts and frozen meals.
- Avoid oversized portions.

VARIETY:

 Get the nutrients your body needs to be healthy by eating many different kinds of foods.

PHYSICAL ACTIVITY:

- Be physically active in your own way.
- Pick activities that you like and start by doing what you can, at least 10 minutes at a time.
- Adults should aim for 30 minutes each day.
- Children should aim for 60 minutes each day.

ENJOY:

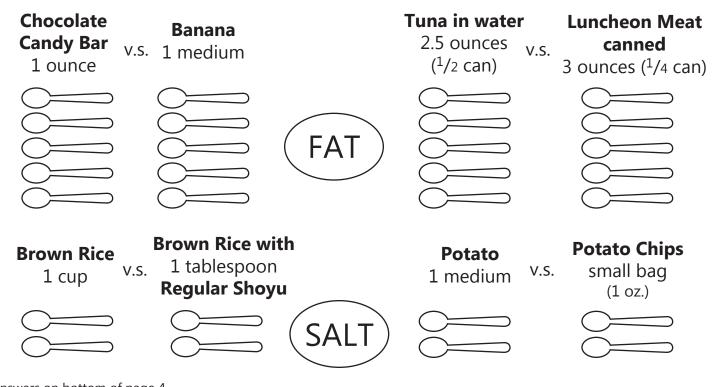

- Enjoy your food.
- Cook together, eat together, talk together. Make mealtime a family time!

Safe Food Handling

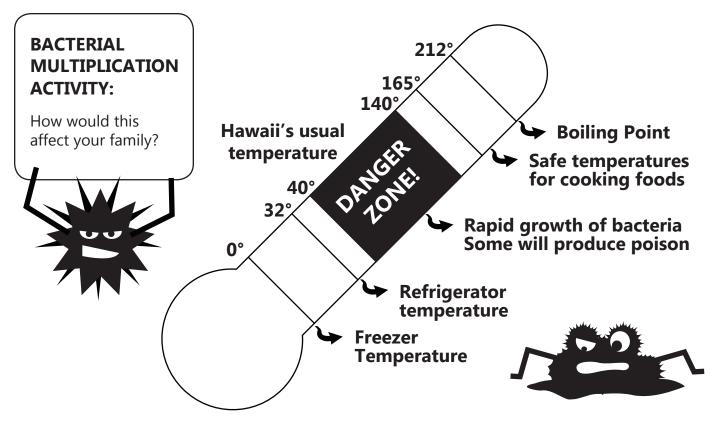

Safe Food Handling

Proper food handling and cooking are the best ways to keep us from becoming sick from bacteria in foods.

- Viner in doubt, thow it out
- Keep hot foods hot, and cold foods cold

Germs, such as bacteria, fungi, yeast, and molds, are a natural part of our environment. Where there is food, there are bacteria. Generally, young children, older adults, and those who are often sick are the most at risk of getting ill from germs in food.

1. CLEAN

WASH YOUR HANDS

Wash your hands with warm water and soap for at least 20 seconds:

- before and after handling or eating food
- after using the bathroom
- after changing diapers
- after handling pets
- after sneezing, coughing, or blowing your nose

FRUIT & VEGGIE HANDLING

- Rinse all fruits and vegetables under running tap water.
- Never use detergent or bleach to clean fresh fruits or vegetables.

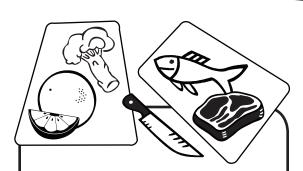

CLEAN SURFACES

- Wash surfaces that come into contact with food in hot soapy water
- Wash your cutting boards, dishes, and utensils with hot soapy water after preparing each food item.
- Use clean towels, pot holders, cloths and sponges. Wash them often.
- Sanitizing Solution
 - 1 Mix one tablespoon of bleach with a gallon of water.
 - 2 Sanitize non-porous countertops and cutting boards for 2 minutes.
 - 3 Store solution, tightly covered for up to one week.

2. SEPARATE

SHOP: Keep raw meat, poultry, seafood and eggs away from other foods in your shopping cart and grocery bags.

MARINATE: Sauce that is used to marinate raw meat, poultry or seafood should NOT be re-used or poured over cooked food.

CUT: Use one cutting board for fresh produce and a different one for raw meat, poultry and seafood.

Or prepare your fresh and ready-to-eat foods before you cut your raw meat, poultry or seafood.

STORE: To prevent juices from raw meat, poultry or seafood from dripping onto other foods in the refrigerator, place these raw foods in sealed containers or in plastic bags on the bottom shelf of the fridge.

COOKED: Never place cooked food on a plate that previously held raw meat, poultry, seafood or eggs.

Thoroughly cooking food kills the harmful bacteria that cause illness.

Use a food thermometer and follow the "Internal Temperatures for Safe Cooking" chart below.

MICROWAVE

- For best results, cover food before microwaving.
- Stir and rotate during microwaving for even cooking. If there is no turntable, rotate the dish by hand once or twice during cooking.
- Make sure there are no cold spots in food.

KEEP HOT FOODS HOT

- Hot foods should be kept at 140°F or higher.
- Keep food hot with chafing dishes, slow cookers, warming trays or on low heat on a stove.

LEFTOVERS

- Heat leftovers thoroughly to 165°F.
- Bring sauces, soups and gravies to a boil for at least one minute before serving.

INTERNAL TEMPERATURES FOR SAFE COOKING

Use a food thermometer to measure the internal temperatures of food.

Meat Product	Temperature
All cooked leftovers (reheated)	165°F
Poultry (whole bird)	165°F
Poultry (breast, thigh, wing)	165°F
Ground poultry	165°F
Ground meat (beef, pork, veal, lamb)	160°F
Egg dishes	160°F
Fish	145°F
*Beef, Veal, or Lamb	145°F
*Pork or Ham	145°F

*Cook whole cuts of meat (beef, veal, lamb, pork, ham) to an internal temperature of 145°F, then allow the meat to rest for 3 minutes before carving or consuming.

4. CHILL

- When shopping, buy frozen, cold or perishable foods last.
- When traveling store perishable food with ice or cold packs in a cooler.
- Take food straight home.

REFRIGERATOR

- Always marinate food in the refrigerator.
- Divide large amounts of leftovers into shallow containers for quicker cooling in the refrigerator.
- Use most cooked leftovers within 3-4 days.
- Unsafe food does NOT always smell, taste or look bad.

DON'T WAIT, REFRIGERATE

- Refrigerate or freeze meat, poultry, eggs and other perishables as soon as you get them home from the store.
- Never let leftovers sit at room temperature more than 2 hours or one hour when temperature is above 90°F.

DEFROSTING

- Never defrost food at room temperature (on the kitchen counter).
- Defrost food in the refrigerator. This is the safest method for all foods.
- For defrosting in microwave, use the defrost or low setting.
- Thaw meat and poultry in airtight packaging in cold water if it will be used immediately. Change the water every 30 minutes, so the food continues to thaw in cool water.
- Food thawed in cold water or in the microwave should be cooked immediately.

KEEP COLD FOODS COLD

Cold foods should be kept at 40°F or below Keep all perishable foods chilled right up until serving time. Place containers of cold food on ice for serving to make sure they stay cold.

Variety in Meals

Consider each of the following tips as you plan meals:

Nutrition Use MyPlate to help ensure good nutrition.

Color Include foods of different colors in meals. Look for sales on the following, for good contrast at low cost: carrots, oranges, bell peppers, tomatoes, lettuce, spinach, apples, broccoli, red cabbage, sweet potatoes, and papayas.

Shape Vary the shape and size of food pieces: Include chunks, slices, strips, and wedges.

Taste or flavor Use a variety of flavors such as sweet, sour, salty, bland, spicy, or tart.

Temperature Serve foods at the appropriate temperature. Serve foods of various temperatures at each meal.

Texture Serve foods of different textures such as hard, soft, moist, dry, crisp, smooth, or chewy.

Meal Planning: Use these food lists to help you and your family follow a balanced meal pattern.

Recipes

Knowing the recipes you can prepare along with your family's favorite dishes can help you with meal planning. You can be a smart shopper by planning meals according to the food ads and preparing recipes with ingredients that are on sale. Using ingredients that you have at home will also help you save on your food bill.

Using slips of paper or index cards, write a heading on each card like the samples below. On each card, list all of the recipes and dishes you can prepare with these major ingredients.

Now you're ready!

- Keep your lists handy.
- While looking at the sale ads, refer to your lists to help you decide what dishes you can prepare with the foods that are on sale.
- Ask your family what dishes on your lists they would enjoy this week.
- Write down the dishes you are planning to prepare.
- Make a shopping list for the items you need to purchase.
- Add to your recipe lists as you learn to make new dishes.

4 PLAN MEALS AROUND SPECIALS

 If ground beef and chicken are on sale, how about chili and roast chicken for two dinners?

MAKE A SHOPPING LIST

Make your shopping list based on your:

- meal plan
- specials
- inventory
- food budget

6 USE COUPONS OR CLUB CARDS

- Use coupons for foods you need when the price is right.
- Take coupons or club cards when shopping.

YOU SHOP

Resist buying extras.

TRY STORE BRANDS

- · Check the value.
- Often have lower prices.
- No national advertising.

BE AWARE OF MARKETING TECHNIQUES

- End of aisle displays.
- Items at checkout counter.
- Sweet cereals at children's eye-level.

BUY FRESH VEGETABLES AND FRUITS IN SEASON

Shop at a Farmer's Market

COMPARE PRICES

Compare prices of fresh, frozen and canned vegetables and fruits. The net weight includes liquid in a can.

18 BEST BUYS IN MILK

- Choose fat-free or low fat (1%) milk.
- Skim milk, skim dry milk, and evaporated skim milk are especially good in cooking.

USE UNIT PRICING

Unit Price $.20 per oz.

Total Price $2.40

How to Read Food Labels

Look at serving size and number of servings.

There may be more than one serving per container.

% Daily Value: is the amount of a nutrient in one serving compared to recommendations for a 2000 calorie diet.

Quick Guide to %DV

5% or less is "low" 20% or more is "high"

Label Reading Activity (use the label above or other labels)

- 1) If I ate the whole box/bag, how many servings would I have eaten? ____
- 2) If I ate 2 servings, how many calories would I have eaten? ____

Using the % Daily Value information from the label:

- 3) Is the food 'low' in fat?
- 4) Is the food 'low' in sodium (salt)? ____

Spending Less, Eating Better

A Shopper's Guide

WEEKLY SHOPPING PLAN

- Divide grocery money into weekly amounts.
- Take only the amount of food money you plan to spend.

2 CHECK YOUR INVENTORY

 Check your refrigerator, freezer and cupboards for foods and supplies you have before you go shopping.

3 CHECK NEWSPAPER ADS

- Watch for sale items.
- Buy extra staple goods when the price is low and if your stock is low.

KNOW YOUR PRICES

- Choose one or two stores with the best prices.
- Check open markets and wholesale outlets.
- Buy bread at thrift stores.

8 KNOW STORE LAYOUT

- Basic foods are around the outside of the store.
- Buy frozen foods last.

9 HINTS ABOUT KIDS

- Shop when rested.
- Shop when less crowded.
- Allow children to add one item to your shopping list.

CHOOSE WHOLE GRAINS

- Brown rice contains more nutrients and fiber.
- Try whole grain cereal, pasta or bread.

VARY YOUR PROTEIN

- Meats can be expensive and high in fat.
- Try beans, lentils or tofu more often for family meals.

BE MEAT SMART

- Use cheaper cuts of meat in stews, soups and stir fries.
- Remember to choose less fatty meats.

19 LIMIT CONVENIENCE FOODS

- Prices are higher
- Prepared/ready-to-eat meals have added sugar, salt and fat.

20 READ THE LABELS

Look for:

Nutrition Facts

Serving Size Servings Per Container

Amount Per Serving

SEE THE LIST OF INGREDIENTS

 Ingredients are listed in order, from the most to the least amount found in the product.

25 DO NOT BUY OR USE

- Bulging or swollen cans
- Cans or jars which spurt when opened or have milky liquid
- Rusty or severely dented cans

BE SURE TO CHECK:

- Scanner for price errors
- Receipt for accuracy
- Your change before leaving the store

27 GETTING HOME

- Refrigerate perishable foods immediately.
- Put new canned foods at the back of shelves. Use older cans first.

Master Measuring

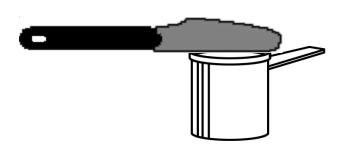

RECIPE SUCCESS

- 1. Read over recipe.
- 2. Clear work area.
- 3. Set out ingredients and supplies.
- 4. Prepare and measure ingredients.
- 5. Make recipe!

Use the dry measuring cups pictured below to measure dry ingredients.

Dry ingredients should be spooned into measuring cup and leveled using the straight edge of a knife.

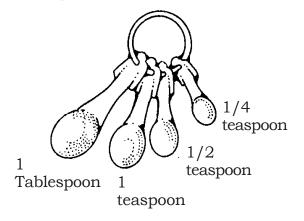

Use clear measuring cups to measure liquid ingredients.

Check at eye level to make sure the correct amount is measured. Liquid should just touch the measurement line.

Use these measuring spoons to measure small amounts of ingredients.
